

Andrew Hendrick Collection

Sept. 25, 1902

September 13th, 1913.

Hendrick C. Anderson Esq.,

Piazza del Popolo 3

Rome

Dear Sir:

I have just received your work entitled "The Creation of the World's Centre of Communication", for which I thank you. It is a splendidly printed book and the illustrations are extremely beautiful.

I am having it sent to our Library, and am notifying the Architects Association of the city and the City Guild of Civic Arts that the book has arrived, and will be open for their inspection at the Library.

I do not think that at present it would be feasible to have any series of lectures dealing with the matter, but the attention of those interested in town-planning will be drawn to it.

Yours sincerely,

President

October 7th, 1943

The President,

Guild of Civic Art,

Toronto.

Dear Sir:

The University of Toronto has just received a copy of "Creation of a World Centre of Communication" by H. G. Andersen. It is an elaborate work with interesting architectural plans, and if you desire to see it the Librarian of the University will, I am sure, be glad to arrange to have it for inspection at a time that will suit you or any of your helpers to examine it.

Yours sincerely,

President.

October 7th, 1913

Mr. R. A. Belfrey,

Secretary, Ontario Architects Association.

Dear Sir:

The University of Toronto has just received a copy of "Creation of a World Centre of Communication" from the author, H. C. Andersen. It is an elaborate work with interesting architectural plans, and if you desire to see it the Librarian of the University will, I am sure, be glad to arrange to have it for inspection at a time that may suit you or any of your members to examine it.

Yours sincerely,

President.

PIAZZA DEL POPOLO, 3

ROMA

To the President of

October 10, 1913

The University of Toronto.

Dear Sir,

I am in receipt of your communication of September 13th, and note with pleasure that the volume, entitled "Creation of a World Centre of Communication" has been safely received at the University of Toronto.

I should be very glad indeed could the attention of those interested in the betterment of international relations be called to this work, and if this aspect of this purpose could be made known through the press. Anything that you could do towards this end would be very greatly appreciated.

Thanking you for your courteous letter,

Sincerely yours,

Hendrik Christian Andersen

P.S. I should deem it an honor were you to allow me to enroll your name among the sympathisers of the "World Conscience" Society, of which I send you a prospectus by the same mail.

October 24th, 1913

H. C. Andersen, Esq.,
Piazza del Popolo, 3
Rome.

Dear Sir:

I have your letter asking me to allow you to include my name among the sympathisers of the "World Conscience Society", of which I have received the prospectus. I regret, however, that I can hardly accede to the request, for if I join any Society I feel it an obligation upon myself to identify myself more or less fully with the objects of the Society, and I cannot at present undertake to go beyond the limits of what is incumbent upon me in my already very onerous position.

Yours sincerely,

President.